Gordon Institute of TAFE, English Language Unit
Set in a modern and welcoming environment, the English Language Unit at Gordon Institute of TAFE offers highly interactive and engaging courses that are designed to reflect the English language and the workplace language environment.

Swinburne University of Technology
The English Language Centre at Swinburne University's Hawthorn campus offers courses designed to prepare international students who want to study in Australia, or wish to improve their English for social or career purposes.

Swinburne's ELICOS programs range from Pre-Intermediate to Advanced levels, and from 5 to 40 weeks in duration, so students can enter the course best suited to their needs and reach the English language level they require.

The English Language Centre sets your start date so that you can complete your ELICOS program and be ready for your chosen academic course at the right time.

Ames International
Adult Multicultural Education Services (AMES) is Australia's largest provider of specialist, multicultural language, settlement, education and employment services.

AMES has been delivering services to Victoria's culturally and linguistically diverse communities since 1951. Over the years, AMES has built a strong reputation for providing high quality services to diverse clients.

AMES delivers specialist settlement, education and employment services through several program and service areas. Learn how these programs assist recently arrived migrants, communities, international students and employers.
Melbourne Language Centre was established in 1988 and has a proud history of providing international students with language courses. These courses are offered from beginner to advanced levels and are taught by fully qualified and experienced staff.

MLC is accredited by NEAS and English Australia.

Melbourne Language Centre (MLC) has the enviable reputation of being Australia’s premier High School Preparation Centre. This is due to its commitment to maximising a student's academic potential, while understanding that this goes hand-in-hand with student welfare.
MLC is accredited by NEAS and English Australia.

English Language Institute (ELI) Victoria University
